

Enabling Faster Printing Profiles

Written By: Scott

INTRODUCTION

As of firmware version 2.1.0 Element (and Element Array) have input shaping available. This allows you to unlock higher throughput through improved print speeds and accelerations without compromising quality. Currently this is only available for PLA and ABS materials, with additional materials coming soon.

The video below covers initial procedures for setting up and using the improved profiles in Canvas

If you have any questions or comments, feel free to reach out to support@mosaicmfg.com